Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-4, drawn to a method of inhibiting tumor growth, classified in class 514, subclass 44.
- II. Claims 5-7, drawn to a method of diagnosing a neoplastic condition, classified in class 435, subclass 4.
- III. Claims 8 and 9, drawn to a method of treatment of cancer, classified in class 514, subclass 2.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I, II and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are unrelated and comprise different steps and can be performed without each other.

Invention I is to a method of inhibiting tumor growth in an animal comprising the administration of a vector encoding the mPer2 protein. Invention II comprises a method of diagnosing a neoplastic condition in an individual based on changes in expression of a circadian clock controlled gene in comparison with a normal individual. Invention III is to a method of treatment of cancer by synchronization of cancerous and non-cancerous cells with drug molecules or hormones. The method of invention II is distinct in that it is to a method of diagnosis while Inventions I and III are to a method of inhibition and a method of treatment, respectively. Further Invention I is a method of inhibiting benign or cancerous tumor growth in a mammal, amphibian, bird, fish or reptile with a vector containing mPer2; while invention III is a method of treating cancer using a drug molecule or hormone. Neither Invention requires the other. The methods of invention I, II and III can be performed without the use of any steps or products from the other inventions.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention: The inventions of group II, list the following patentably distinct species of circadian controlled genes.

- a) c-Myc
- b) Cyclin D
- c) Cyclin A
- d) Mdm2
- e) Gadd45 α

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, claims 5-7 are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Art Unit: 1632

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
